SIMPLI-BUSINESS CASE STUDY

A business owner navigating an often-perilous economic environment could not afford to spend her time dealing with multiple vendors, evolving technology, and billing disputes. Expensive equipment costs and a lack of in-house IT expertise seemed to put the feature-rich functionality and support she needed out of reach.

That's when a Deltacom Account Executive proactively highlighted the competitive cost-savings and convenience of Simpli-Business. The company now uses a customized package that seamlessly integrates voice and data with multifunction printers and a phone system. Plus, Deltacom manages the technology remotely. So instead of juggling a myriad of service providers, the owner is now fully dedicated to managing her business. Shouldn't every decision be this simple?
